

Epstein Evidence Bundle: URLs, Screenshots, and Documented Claims

Prepared from the materials supplied in this chat, uploaded transcript, user screenshots, and public URLs located during a source pass. This bundle is an evidence index, not a finding that any disputed allegation is true.

Important distinction: this bundle separates established public records from documented allegations and disputed interpretations. A screenshot or FD-302 can prove that a claim was reported or recorded; it does not by itself prove the underlying event occurred.

1. Executive summary

The evidence discussed forms a cluster of issues around the death, custody handling, online posts, post-2019 account activity, and the Fortnite/V-Bucks claim. The strongest documentary points are the official DOJ/OIG custody records, SDNY/DOJ statements, archived 4chan thread, FBI tip/subpoena reporting, CourtListener/Justia court records confirming Roberto Grijalva as an MCC-related officer/defendant, and public reporting on FedEx and Fortnite/V-Bucks records.

The strongest defensible conclusion is that the public record contains multiple unresolved oddities and confidence problems. The evidence collected here does not conclusively prove Epstein survived, but it provides a structured basis for further verification.

2. Core chronology alleged or documented

Date / time	Item	Evidential status
9 Aug 2019	DOJ/SDNY document in released files allegedly dated one day before death statement.	Document claim / requires direct PDF verification.
10 Aug 2019 08:16	4chan /pol/ post: "Epstein died an hour ago... hanging, cardiac arrest".	Archived thread / reported by media.
10 Aug 2019	Follow-up 4chan medical-detail post: ALS, intubation, epinephrine, saline, Lower Manhattan ER.	Archived post / supports possible insider proximity if timestamp/authenticity holds.
10 Aug 2019	Same thread SWAM8W1F post alleges wheelchair, trip van, no sign-in, no plate, green military-style dress, possible switch.	Documented allegation, later reportedly submitted to FBI.
After tip	FBI tip record / FD-302 records a caller submitting the social media post.	FBI record if source document confirmed.
After death	FBI/DOJ reportedly subpoenaed 4chan, Apple, AT&T, Citibank to identify posters/IPs.	Reported by Business Insider/Vanity Fair and discussed in released files.
2021-2024	Bettis v. Grijalva court records show Officer/Lt Roberto Grijalva as a real MCC-related defendant/officer.	CourtListener/Justia public court records.
2024	FedEx account associated with Epstein allegedly used for shipments involving Plan D LLC/Empire Aviation.	The Ditch reporting / needs original invoices preserved.
2026 release discussion	LittlestJeff1 / Fortnite claims; Epic response says later username-change ruse, but V-Bucks purchase records appear in Epstein material.	Disputed: V-Bucks record supports Fortnite connection; tracker account identity remains disputed.

STATEMENT OF MANHATTAN U.S. ATTORNEY ON THE DEATH OF DEFENDANT JEFFREY EPSTEIN

Manhattan U.S. Attorney Geoffrey S. Berman said: "Earlier this morning, the Manhattan Correctional Center confirmed that Jeffrey Epstein, who faced charges brought by this Office engaging in the sex trafficking of minors, had been found unresponsive in his cell and pronounced dead shortly thereafter. Today's events are disturbing, and we are deeply aware of their potential to present yet another hurdle to giving Epstein's many victims their day in Court. To those brave young women who have already come forward and to the many others who have not yet done so, let me reiterate that we remain proud to stand for you in bringing this case to court and our investigation of the conduct charged in the Indictment – which included a conspiracy to defraud – remains ongoing.

We continue to strongly urge anyone who feels they may be a victim or have information related to the conduct in this case to please contact 1-800- CALL FBI."

JOHN F. CRONAN, United States District Judge:

Plaintiff, currently incarcerated at the Westchester County Jail, brings this pro se action under the Court's federal question jurisdiction, alleging that Defendants at the Metropolitan Correctional Center violated his constitutional rights. By order dated September 8, 2021, the Court granted Plaintiff's request to proceed without prepayment of fees, that is, in forma pauperis (IFP).¹

Because Plaintiff has been granted permission to proceed IFP, he is entitled to rely on the Court and the U.S. Marshals Service to effect service. Walker v. Schulz, 717 F.3d 119, 123 n.6 (2d Cir. 2013); see also 28 U.S.C. § 1915(d) ("The officers of the court shall issue and serve all process . . . in [IFP] cases."); Fed. R. Civ. P. 4(c)(3) (the court must order the Marshals Service to serve if the plaintiff is authorized to proceed IFP). Although Rule 4(m) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure generally requires that summonses and the complaint be served within 90 days of the date the complaint is filed, Plaintiff is proceeding IFP and could not have served summonses and the complaint until the Court reviewed the complaint and ordered that a summons be issued. The

Court therefore extends the time to serve until 90 days after the date summonses are issued. If the complaint is not served within that time, Plaintiff should request an extension of time for service. See Mellett v. Strong, 682 F.3d 56, 63 (2d Cir. 2012) (holding that it is the plaintiff's responsibility to request an extension of time for service); see also Murray v. Panek, 378 F. App'x 50, 52 (2d Cir. 2010) ("As long as the [plaintiff proceeding IFP] provides the information necessary to identify the defendant, the Marshals' failure to effect service automatically constitutes 'good cause' for an extension of time within the meaning of Rule 4(m).").

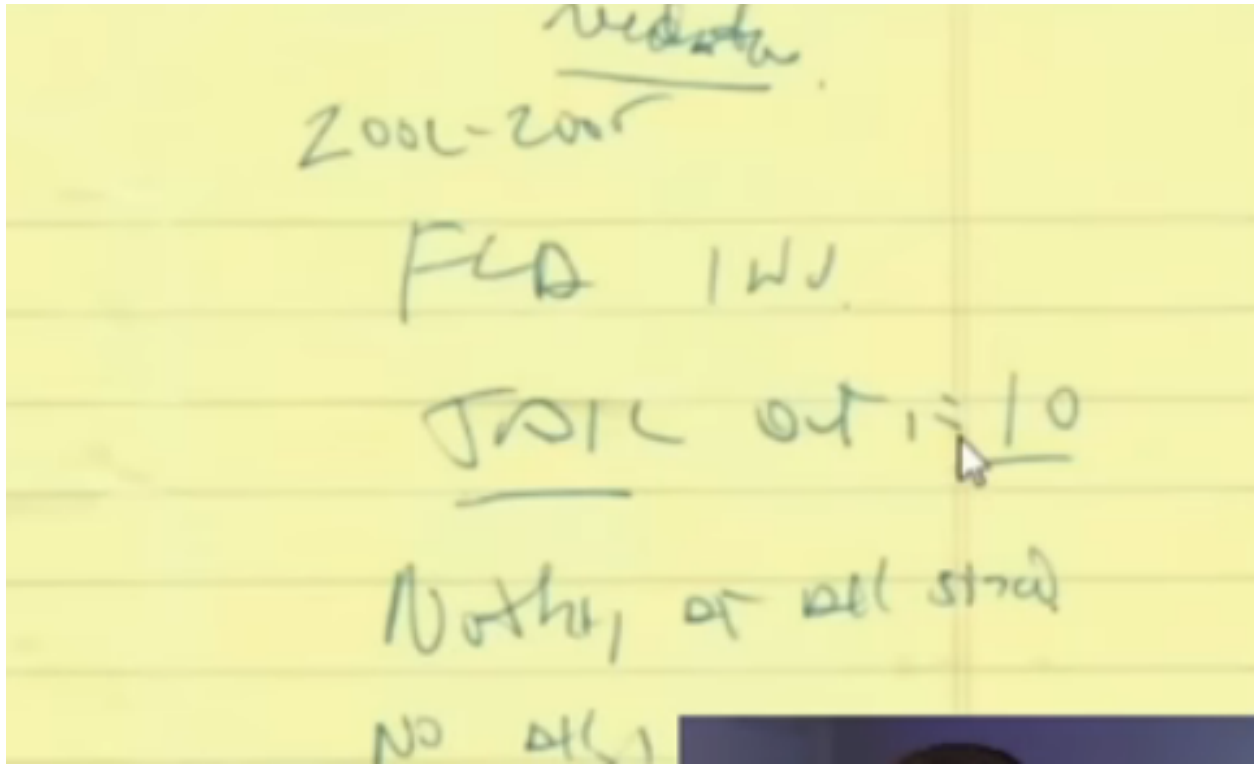

To allow Plaintiff to effect service on Defendants through the U.S. Marshals Service, the Clerk of Court is instructed to fill out a U.S. Marshals Service Process Receipt and Return form ("USM-285 form") for each of these defendants, and check the box on the USM-285 forms labeled "Check for service on U.S.A." The Clerk of Court is further instructed to issue summonses and deliver to the Marshals Service all the paperwork necessary for the Marshals Service to effect service upon the defendants.

Plaintiff must notify the Court in writing if his address changes, and the Court may dismiss the action if Plaintiff fails to do so.

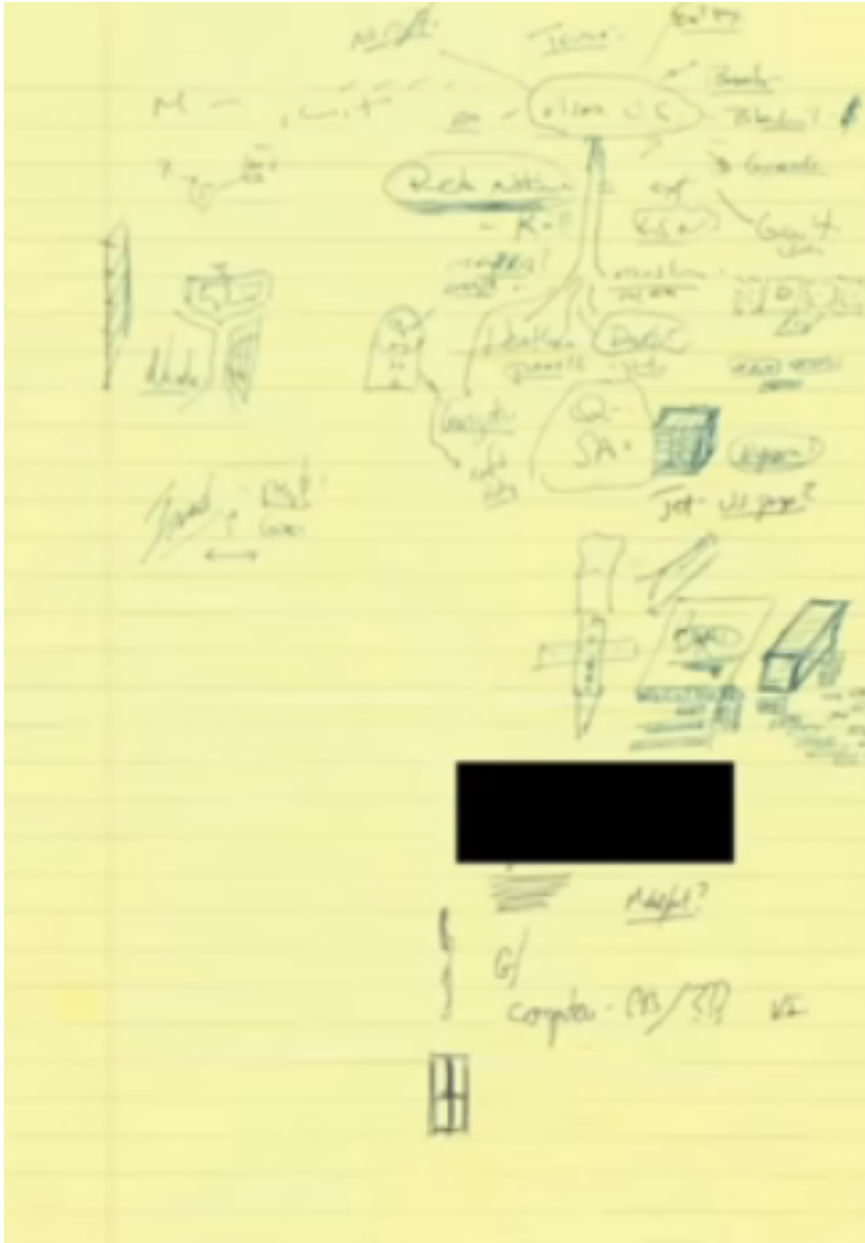

CONCLUSION

The Clerk of Court is instructed to issue summonses, complete the USM-285 forms with the addresses for Defendants Officer Grijalva, Officer Darden, Warden Lincoln-Vitale, Captain Kizzler, Captain A. Jordan, and Physician Assistant Kang, check the box on the USM-285 forms labeled "Check for service on U.S.A.," and deliver all documents necessary to effect service to the

The Ditch gained access to Jeffrey Epstein's FedEx account – with records showing it was used for shipments long after his death and an address book including a senior Israeli military officer considered a "strategic consultant" for "diplomatic matters".

One of the shipments sent less than two years ago was delivered to a dissolved company that owned and operated Epstein's private jet.

The US Department of Justice published millions of files related to Epstein late last month and The Ditch identified an unredacted password for Epstein's FedEx account. The record with the account login details has since been deleted.

Live and accessible

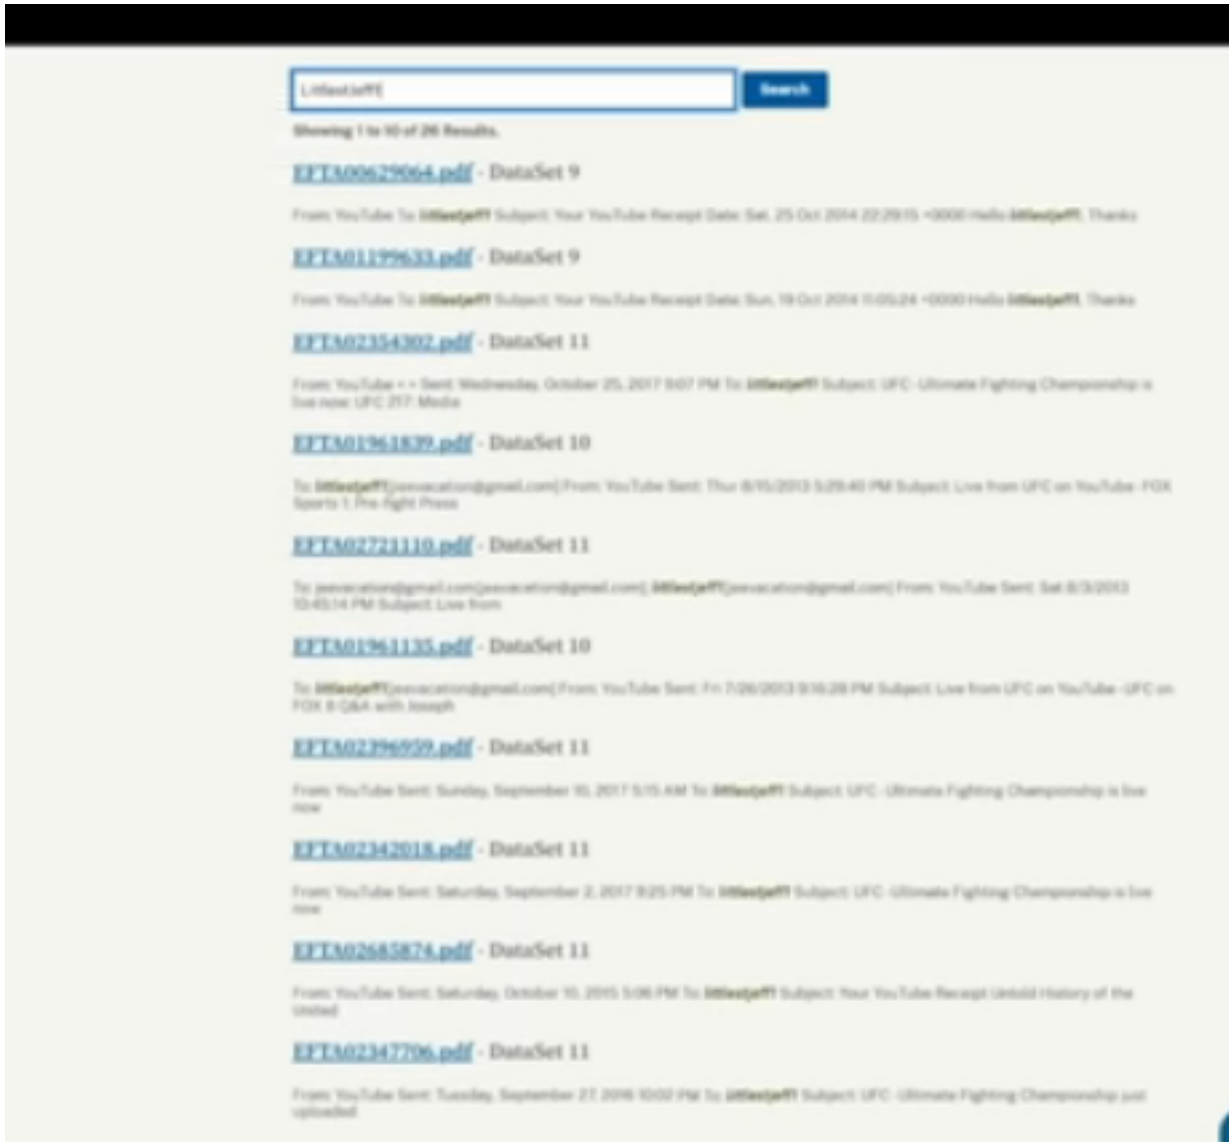

Jeffrey Epstein's FedEx account included the addresses and contact details of his high-profile associates like convicted child abuser Ghislaine Maxwell, sex trafficker Jean-Luc Brunel and billionaire Les Wexner.

Among the lesser-known of the almost 100 names is ex-Israeli Air Force Lieutenant Colonel and strategic consultant Danny Grossman, who lists Alan Dershowitz as one of his clients.

Grossman served in the US Air Force before moving to Israel in 1979 and joining that state's intelligence equivalent. He claims to have had reports placed on the front page of the New York Times and has also been a director of the American Jewish Congress.

The FedEx account was used as recently as summer 2024 – despite Epstein's death in 2019.

5. Issue-by-issue evidence notes

5.1 Press release date and wording anomaly

Evidence to collect: the direct DOJ Data Set 8 PDF EFTA00013180.pdf, the official SDNY Aug. 10 statement, and any metadata/adjacent pages. The fact pattern under review is an Aug. 9 dated statement versus Aug. 10 official death timing, plus alleged addition of "of an apparent suicide" wording in the later public statement.

5.2 4chan early death post and medical details

Evidence to collect: archived 4plebs thread, archive.li mirror, NBC New York 2019 reporting, Business Insider/Vanity Fair 2026 reporting, and screenshots showing timestamps. The key evidential question is whether the timestamp and post order are authentic and predate public reporting.

5.3 Wheelchair / trip van / no sign-in / no plate allegation

Evidence to collect: original SWAM8W1F post, FBI FD-302/tip record, and subpoena records. The allegation itself remains a documented allegation unless independently verified, but the FBI record and subpoena activity show it was formally reported and investigated.

5.4 Roberto Grijalva / MCC linkage

Evidence to collect: CourtListener and Justia docket pages confirming Officer/Lt Roberto Grijalva in Bettis v. Grijalva and any released subpoena-response document that names him. Court records establish the person and MCC-related role; they do not by themselves prove authorship of a 4chan post.

5.5 Decoy body / OCME vehicle allegation

Evidence to collect: full FBI interview document, page number, Bates number, and surrounding pages. The screenshot appears to record that boxes and sheets were used to create an apparent body in a white OCME vehicle while a black vehicle departed with the actual body. This is a chain-of-custody/public-deception issue even if explained as media management.

5.6 FedEx / Plan D LLC / Empire Aviation

Evidence to collect: The Ditch original article, preserved screenshots/invoices, any company records for Plan D LLC, and corroborating reporting. The key distinction is between an account being active and Epstein personally using it.

5.7 Fortnite / V-Bucks / LittlestJeff1

Evidence to collect: released email record showing V-Bucks purchase, Epic Games statement, tracker screenshots, and archived tracker/account identifiers predating the file release. The V-Bucks evidence supports a Fortnite connection. The later LittlestJeff1 activity is disputed because Epic says it was a username-change ruse.

5.8 Little St. James imagery / island activity

Evidence to collect: original drone footage, date/provenance, metadata, and official ownership/property records. Low-resolution crops cannot identify a person or prove post-2019 presence.

6. What is evidence versus what remains disputed

Point	What can be stated safely	What remains unproven
4chan posts	The posts appear in archives and were reported by media/FBI-file reporting.	Who authored them and whether all claims are true.
Wheelchair/van allegation	A specific allegation exists and was reportedly documented through FBI tip/subpoena material.	That the van event or switch actually occurred.
Grijalva	Court records confirm a real Officer/Lt Grijalva in MCC-related federal litigation.	That he authored the posts or was connected to the subpoena trail without the primary subpoena document.

Decoy body	Screenshot appears to describe a decoy body made from boxes/sheets.	Full context, authorization, and whether it implies more than media avoidance.
FedEx	Public reporting says an Epstein FedEx account remained accessible/active.	That Epstein himself used the account after death.
Fortnite/V-Bucks	A V-Bucks purchase record appears in provided material.	That the later tracker account was Epstein-controlled after 2019.

7. Final note

This PDF is an evidence bundle and source index. It is suitable as a working pack for further verification. For a formal filing or publication, the next step is to download and preserve each primary PDF, archive each web page, record hashes, and add Bates/page numbers for each exhibit.

Addendum: Missing Optics, Decoy-Body Handling, and First-Report Thread

Purpose of this addendum

This addendum corrects two omissions in the earlier evidence PDF. It makes explicit: (1) the optics and media-deception issue around the body transport, including the reported use of boxes and sheets to create what appeared to be a human body; and (2) the significance of the 4chan thread as an early/first public report sequence, including the medical details and same-thread wheelchair/van allegation.

This section does not state that every allegation is proven true. It separates what the documents appear to record from what remains an allegation or unresolved question.

1. Optics issue: reported decoy body to mislead the press

The body-transport document is not merely a routine transfer note. The visible passage states that, due to the large media presence outside MCC, personnel used boxes and sheets to create what appeared to be a human body, placed that apparent body into a white OCME vehicle, and the press followed that vehicle while a black vehicle departed unnoticed with Epstein's body.

Evidence value: this is a documented optics/deception issue. It indicates that the media were intentionally caused to follow a vehicle containing a dummy/decoy body shape rather than the vehicle said to contain Epstein's body.

Why it matters: if Epstein was simply dead and the body was being lawfully transferred, the creation of a fake body shape to fool the press raises a serious chain-of-custody and public-confidence question: why was deception necessary, who authorised it, and what records prove the actual body movement?

Image: FBI/interview-document screenshot showing the passage about boxes and sheets being used to create what appeared to be a human body, with press following the white OCME vehicle while a black vehicle left unnoticed with Epstein's body.

2. The 4chan thread as an early/first public report sequence

The report should expressly state that the 4chan thread is significant because it appears in the evidence narrative as an early public report sequence. It is not just a later rumour. The first visible post in the thread states, in substance, that Epstein had died about an hour earlier from hanging/cardiac arrest and tells readers to screenshot it.

The same thread then contains further medical-detail claims and the separate SWAM8W1F post alleging a wheelchair movement, a trip van, no sign-in, no recorded plate number, and a person in green military-style dress seen in the van.

Evidence value: the strongest point is not that the anonymous allegations are automatically true. The stronger point is that the thread existed, was reportedly submitted to the FBI tip line, was recorded in FBI material, and was followed by investigative/subpoena activity seeking to identify the posters.

3. Corrected wording for the dossier

Issue	Correct text to include
Media optics / decoy body	An FBI/interview-document screenshot appears to record that boxes and sheets were used to create what appeared to be a human body, which was placed into a white OCME vehicle followed by the press, while a black vehicle departed unnoticed with Epstein's body. This is a documented optics and chain-of-custody concern.
First-report thread	The 4chan thread should be treated as an early public-report sequence, not just a later internet rumour. It includes the initial death/cardiac-arrest post, medical-detail claims, and a same-thread wheelchair/trip-van allegation.
Wheelchair/van allegation	The allegation was that Epstein was taken medical in a wheelchair after the 04:15 count, front-cuffed, followed by a trip van movement with no sign-in and no recorded plate number. This remains an allegation, but it was reportedly submitted to and documented by the FBI.
Evidential caution	The documents establish the existence and investigative handling of the allegations. They do not alone prove that Epstein survived. They do, however, create unresolved questions about custody movement, body transport, records, and public transparency.

Source URLs already identified for this evidence chain include: DOJ Epstein Library; DOJ/OIG Report 23-085; archived 4chan thread /pol/ 222518349; Vanity Fair reporting on the 4chan/FBI subpoena trail; CourtListener/Justia Bettis v. Grijalva; The Ditch reporting on FedEx/Plan D; and Epic/Kotaku/Verge reporting on the Fortnite/LittlestJeff1 dispute.

Addendum: FBI 4chan Inquiry - Roberto Grijalva / MCC Court Record

This addendum addresses the missing identification point: the person/name emerging from the FBI follow-up to the 4chan post trail, and the separate court case confirming an Officer/Lieutenant Roberto Grijalva in the Metropolitan Correctional Center (MCC) context.

1. What the evidence chain is

The evidence chain being documented is not simply an internet rumour. The sequence is: (a) an early 4chan thread concerning Epstein's death; (b) a second post in the same thread alleging wheelchair movement, an unlogged trip van, no plate number, and a possible switch-out; (c) a redacted caller/tipster submitted that post to the FBI; (d) FBI records show the allegation entered the investigative record; (e) reporting and released-file discussion state that subpoenas were issued to identify the poster(s); and (f) public discussion of subpoena-return material connected the inquiry to the name Roberto Grijalva/Grihalva.

Important caution: the existence of an FBI record and subpoena trail proves that the allegation was documented and pursued. It does not, by itself, prove that the allegation was true or that Grijalva authored the post.

2. Name to be stated in the report

Name: Roberto Grijalva, also appearing in some commentary/spelling variants as Grihalva.

Relevant role: Court records identify an Officer/Lieutenant Roberto Grijalva as a Bureau of Prisons / MCC-related defendant in Bettis v. Grijalva, Southern District of New York. This independently establishes that the name is not fictional and that a person by that name was connected to MCC operations. The wording in the dossier should say "MCC officer/lieutenant", not simply "anonymous internet user".

3. Separate court case confirming the MCC connection

The separate federal civil action is Bettis v. Grijalva, docketed in the Southern District of New York. The CourtListener docket and related Justia orders show Officer Grijalva named among MCC/BOP defendants. The screenshots supplied in this evidence bundle show the caption listing "OFFICER GRIJALVA" and related correctional staff, and an order directing service on Officer Grijalva and other defendants.

4. Evidential significance

This link matters because it changes the character of the 4chan allegation. If the FBI inquiry/subpoena trail did connect to Roberto Grijalva, and the separate court records confirm Grijalva as an MCC officer/lieutenant, then the post is not merely an anonymous online claim in isolation. It becomes a documented allegation that investigators tried to trace, with a name connected to the relevant custodial environment.

The report should state this as an open evidential issue: FBI records and reporting indicate an effort to identify the 4chan poster; public discussion of the subpoena trail points to Roberto Grijalva; separate court records confirm an Officer/Lieutenant Roberto Grijalva in MCC-related litigation. This does not prove authorship or truth of the switch-out claim, but it is a material investigative lead and must be included.

5. Timing language to use carefully

The dossier should avoid saying simply that Grijalva was "resident" at the same time as Epstein unless a source specifically uses that word. The safer and stronger wording is: "Court records independently identify Roberto Grijalva as an MCC officer/lieutenant. The released-file/press discussion connects the FBI 4chan inquiry to that name. If the employment period overlaps Epstein's detention, that would place the named person within the relevant custodial environment."

Court therefore extends the time to serve until 90 days after the date summonses are issued. If the complaint is not served within that time, Plaintiff should request an extension of time for service. See Meilleur v. Strong, 682 F.3d 56, 63 (2d Cir. 2012) (holding that it is the plaintiff's responsibility to request an extension of time for service); see also Murray v. Pataki, 378 F. App'x 50, 52 (2d Cir. 2010) ("As long as the [plaintiff proceeding IFP] provides the information necessary to identify the defendant, the Marshals' failure to effect service automatically constitutes 'good cause' for an extension of time within the meaning of Rule 4(m).").

To allow Plaintiff to effect service on Defendants through the U.S. Marshals Service, the Clerk of Court is instructed to fill out a U.S. Marshals Service Process Receipt and Return form ("USM-285 form") for each of these defendants, and check the box on the USM-285 forms labeled "Check for service on U.S.A." The Clerk of Court is further instructed to issue summonses and deliver to the Marshals Service all the paperwork necessary for the Marshals Service to effect service upon the defendants.

Plaintiff must notify the Court in writing if his address changes, and the Court may dismiss the action if Plaintiff fails to do so.

CONCLUSION

The Clerk of Court is instructed to issue summonses, complete the USM-285 forms with the addresses for Defendants Officer Grijalva, Officer Darlen, Warden Lincoln-Vitale, Captain Kizzler, Captain A. Jordan, and Physician Assistant Kang, check the box on the USM-285 forms labeled "Check for service on U.S.A.," and deliver all documents necessary to effect service to the

Evidence Notes: What This Table Proves and What It Does Not Prove

Press-release anomaly. The table now cites both the allegedly earlier DOJ file and the official public SDNY release. The point is the date/wording discrepancy. Verification requires checking the direct PDF and the official August 10 page side by side.

4chan as first/early report. The archived 4plebs thread is the direct thread URL for the early death post and same-thread medical/custody allegations. It supports that these posts existed in an archived thread; it does not, by itself, prove the statements were true.

Wheelchair / trip van / no plate allegation. This is included as a documented allegation from the same thread and from the later FBI-tip discussion. The evidential point is that the allegation existed, was reportedly submitted to the FBI, and became part of the investigative discussion.

FBI follow-up and subpoenas. Where the dossier relies on Vanity Fair or Business Insider style reporting, it should say "reported" unless the exact subpoena PDF/page is included. The next improvement would be to add screenshots/pages of those exact subpoena documents.

Grijalva / MCC connection. CourtListener and Justia support the existence of a real Officer/Lt Roberto Grijalva in MCC-related federal litigation. This does not prove he authored the 4chan post; it supports the identity/location link being discussed.

FedEx / Plan D / Empire Aviation. The Ditch articles support the allegation that an Epstein-associated FedEx account remained accessible/active and involved post-death logistics. The strongest version of this section would preserve the original screenshots/invoices.

Fortnite / V-Bucks. The V-Bucks record supports a genuine Fortnite-related purchase in Epstein material. Epic disputed the LittlestJeff1 tracker account as a later username-change ruse. Both points should be included together because the Fortnite section is disputed.

Correction to prior wording

The earlier chronology should not use vague entries such as "reported by media" without a link. It must include the URL column shown above. Where a claim still depends on a not-yet-attached source page, the status should say "source document required" rather than present the claim as already proved.
